DAY 1: CHIBOUGAMAU AND OUJÉ-BOUGOUMOU

Enjoy the nature surrounding the city of Chibougamau to discover the boreal forest. On foot, by bike or by canoe, the parc Obalski is full of possibilities! Visit the Aanischaaukamikw Cree Cultural Institute to learn about the Cree Nation's past and history. Sleep at the Capissisit Lodge.

Parc Obalski

Take a deep breath of fresh air! Rent a kayak or a canoe and enjoy the lac Gilman, in the heart of the city. Many hiking and bicycle trails are accessible near the lake.

FaunENord

FaunENord offers some customized activities to discover the boreal forest, such as interpretation services, birds' observation and mushroom-picking workshops.

Aanischaaukamikw Cree Cultural Institute

A visit to the Aanischaaukamikw Cree Cultural Institute is an inescapable stop to learn about the Cree Nation's past and history. The museum received the 2018 Governor General's History Award for Excellence in Museums. After this activity, complete your visit by a guided tour of the community of Oujé-Bougoumou, who was rewarded by UNESCO for its construction and traditional architecture.

DAY 2: CHAPAIS AND LEBEL-SUR-QUÉVILLON

Stop by Nuuhchimi Wiinuu Cree Cultural Camp on your way to Chapais, where you can hike short trails. Then hit the road to Lebel-sur-Quévillon.

Nuuhchimi Wiinuu

Immerse yourself in Cree culture with hosts and owners David and Anna Bosum. They welcome you as if you were part of the family and they share their culture, their knowledge, their traditions... Many activities are available on the site, winter and summer: snowshoeing, canoeing, fishing, as well as various workshops. You can sleep in traditional accommodation, such as tents.

To book your stay in Nuuhchimi Wiinuu, contact Eeyou Istchee Baie-James Travels at 1 800 855-4747 or reservations@voyageajibj.com.

Lacs Campbell, Cavan and mont Springer hiking trails

Near Chapais, stretch your legs in one of the hiking trails.

DAY 6: LEBEL-SUR-QUÉVILLON

Multipurpose Trail

Discover the boreal forest's treasures on foot or by bike in the multipurpose trail.

Municipal campground

Enjoy all the facilities of the municipal campground and relax by the lac Quévillon. Its beaches of fine sand will convince you to settle there after a walk in the forest!
